

Family Educational Records And Privacy Act

Eastwood 2009-2010

Dear Parents/Legal Guardian:

Class scores will not be posted at Eastwood. However, each student or parent can review grading over the internet for daily individual achievement. This can be done by knowing your student's school number. If you don't know the number, come in and get it at the office. We cannot give it over the phone.

With your permission, teachers would like to occasionally have students in their class correct the work of fellow students. At times, parent volunteers who have signed a confidentiality agreement may correct assignments. This practice has an important educational purpose in that it allows student to review homework assignments and quizzes and consider problems solving that may be different than their own. It also serves the important purpose of allowing the teacher to give and review assignments and use correcting time as effectively as possible.

Teacher would like to be able to display excellent examples of student work with their name. This will be done in a positive way. We would like to include student names on art work and projects displayed on butte tin boards. Student pictures are used within the school only. Please indicate below by a check mark and your signature your position on correcting papers and displaying student work.

I give permission for my child's work to be corrected by other students or adult volunteers.
